I am now working my way to get back to being fully clean, I have to shteigh in this inyan. I know that I usually fail only when I have my device opened without a filter, all other times are very mynuute, so I just got to make that stopage at home, I am a bochur with a flip phone, just when I go home since during my breaks I have nothing to do, I then search online either shopping or gaming and then eventually leads to the Lo-Aleinu. I have had some etzah from someone here, which worked but I am not doing those exciting things in a Ra'Giel basis so I mi'mellah fall because I return to my normalcy in those breaks. I need to shtigh on and on, and want to build myself to be a good bachur and hopefully get married without such a issue coming with me. I want to get solved like I did in the past and I know it's possible so B"H with the oilam, I can do this!? I am going to be refreshing count to start from day 1 in order to see and count my achievements, although I have done and kept b4 (45+ days) and still didn't break it B"H. This is all in order to show myself that I can do this bz"h!!

41 Days Completed, Hey to the chashuvey people on here, I want to recognize each one of you reading this, I am no different than you, if anything though sounds cleyshay I am coming from such open experiences of access and am not proud of it a bit, but Baruch Hashem with each one of you, si be viewing a post, si be clicking a thank you or responding back, each increases each other to implore and get to the higher Ramah of kedusha, and it is sustainably present, you feel some sort of ability that it can and maybe at times will be capable to be completed. I am no other than you, just with some help one person at a time, that have spoken directly through phone, in person, a text or email, or even a post I read with zero communication what so ever, you have helped me reach here. I had struggles and it isn't over, but with the right mindset and consistent push it is all attainable, and I will complete it. I know it is SHAYICH and Once acted upon with the Kavanah and constant reminders, I push to see in what other forms that may pull me down, what can I DO to REROUTE my Yetzer, BLIND it sort to say or start small, with a Minimization that I can do although it is a bit hard. And Baruch Hashem, I have done so, now I am leading towards a great path, Bezras Hashem, I remain in the right mindset to be matzliach and with such help with finding the shidduch that hashem has in mind for me and will be doing Hashem's Ratzon.

Although I don't post daily, I am in constant touch with chaverim, in need of emergency or even a daily check in, not even a Rav, just partners, no-one knows each other, and GYE affords me that. Thank you everyone that is reading this you all B'emes inspire me and give me chizuk, I really mean it. If I had the time to speak and express that I would love to, Keep it up You are special in my eyes but most importantly and in comparable Hashem's Eyes.

Love the entire oilam here, I am sorry on my small writings to the oilam, I am a bit lazy, just I know you all deserve a lot, KEEP UP THE SHTIEGHING!!
