The name of this thread says it all. I don't care how much success I've had and how many times I fell. This is about today.

Day 1

Beautiful.. just to add I heard in the name of Rav Weinberger Succos stand for Somech V'Ozer Kol Hanoflim.. lets use the power of Succos to succeed together.

Don't let the fall get you down.. Wishing you a wonderful Chag.

This morning is a challenge, sitting by my filtered work laptop I can't (easily) access anything inappropriate but that's irrelevant. I'm on my own, work is stressful, it's so easy to escape. Setting a goal of 30 minutes to do nothing but work .

Hi, good to hear from you.

I can give you the "good BH" or we can talk for something more real. Don't have the

I'm sure today is crazy for you but maybe chol hamoed?

Day 2. Check

Day 3. Check.

That was Yomtov.

Today is day 4.

headspace for a polite in between
Please God.

Day 14....

Day 16 (allowing for some flexibility with the definition of a fall).

So much stress from multiple sides.

I surrender it to God (I used to laugh at the guys who said that). I have no clue how the day will go, or the week, or in which direction the multiple sources of stress will resolve themselves.

Thank you God...

1. that I am sober right now
2. for the sweet blessings in my life that I want to focus on

Please help me to live life in line with Your Will, one decision at a time.
