dear brothers, after an inexcusable absence I need to come back and post regularly. This is my Day One

Thank you as always.

crazy coincidence I just came back today too after an equally inexcusable absence

I dont mean to hijack the thread, just pointing out it's quite uncanny.

maybe we can do this together now that we both decided to come back...on the same day

There is no such thing as a coincidence (for sure not a crazy coincidence :-) )

Maybe this thread should be dedicated to all those who want to make a "come back" after their absence...

Did you already do the Reasons for Change section of the Flight to Freedom program? It can help you resolve this feeling.
