Yesterday again I was sure I was going to watch but told myself to at least read this folder I have on my notes all where I write reasons why not to watch that I have written usually after I fall and there is a lot like a lot of stuff there that I have wrote from the past 6 months and I read everything and I was like there is no reason to watch really when you see the pain it has caused you in the past and how I'm begging my future self to please not to watch I really feel like I will make it to 30 days and much more this time with help from the 4 day chag and ???? ??? ????? of course bh

28 days clean

The week before Rosh Hashanah I'm usually really in to slichos but this week I felt like my slichos was not watching and keeping my streak alive for the new year.

I feel bad for not being more scared and not doing more tshuva but I feel like I'm saying not watching and getting away from old behaviors is the best kind of tshuva but I still don't know if that's true
