The first 60 e-mails of the Shmiras Ainayim Chizuk list was from this "book". See this page.

You can download the entire book as a PDF on our website over here.

But you should still BUY it too.... ;D

It came to my mind something that has been bothering me for a while, it is often stated on this forum the importance of not giving up and that even if you fall hashem is waiting for you to repent and start again, there is a well known mishneh in masechet yuma "haomer echte veushiv ein maspikin beyodo lasos teshuva" who ever says I will act out and then repent from heaven they don't give him the opportunity to repent, I have found that when acting out the way my psyche deals with the guilt is by telling myself this is just one time and i will be better tomorrow (I don't think I'm the only one that uses this mechanism) isn't this a road block to teshuvah ?

As I'm writing this I recall a vort from one of the tzadikim who on a play with the words "maspikin" says there is no safek meaning there is no question that beyodo lasos teshuva, but obviously this is not the simple meaning of the mishnah.

By the way still going strong 11 1/2 WKS b"h

Good question!

Perhaps according to the Yesod of the Nesivos Shalom in e-mail #341 on this page, maybe "ain maspikin biyado la'asos Teshuvah" because he doesn't NEED teshuvah since while sinning his heart is broken and he is thinking of Hashem...

That's a little Dochek though.

Here's another Pshat... I would say is that in the case of addiction this chazal doesn't apply in the literal sense, but in a figurative sense... What do I mean? Once we have this illness, we will tell ourselves "echte ve'ashuv" for years. But that doesn't mean Hashem won't help us HEAL from our sickness. And once we are healed, we will see that Hashem took care of the teshuvah

I ask you, where would these Torah words come from if not for GYE? ;D

To make it very simple: ????? ????? means "I will sin..." That means he wants to sin .

When we talk about not giving up we are talking about someone who wants to stop sinning.

The very very first step is to want to stop. Almost everyone that comes to this makom kadosh wants to stop.

for us. "Ain maspikin Bi'yado" - but "Yesh Maspik Bidai Hashem Le'hashivo"!!

?? ?????? is the opposite of ????? ??????
