

I'm trying the 90 day thing again...

Posted by Ano Nymous - 01 Feb 2010 05:37

Hi guys,

It's me again. The last couple weeks have been really really bad. I just installed K9 on my primary computer, and I'm going to give the password away ASAP. I'd like to try counting the days again, because even though this week was great in every other way (making the days count), I still had trouble with the internet and I just can't control myself. I need to get some distance between myself and the addiction so that I can get back to where I was a few months ago. Argggggg this is SO SO SO depressing!!! Oh well, I'm not gonna quit (at least not yet) even though it's very tempting to. I don't feel any hope at all, even though I was given so much

I hope to see some success again soon...

Ano

It's easier to run

Replacing this pain with something numb

It's so much easier to go

Than face all this pain here all alone

Something has been taken from deep inside of me

The secret I've kept locked away no one can ever see

Wounds so deep they never show they never go away

Like moving pictures in my head for years and years they've played

If I could change I would take back the pain I would

Retrace every wrong move that I made I would

If I could stand up and take the blame I would

If I could take all the shame to the grave I would

If I could change I would take back the pain I would

Retrace every wrong move that I made I would

If I could stand up and take the blame I would

I would take all my shame to the grave

Sometimes I remember the darkness of my past

Bringing back these memories I wish I didn't have

Sometimes I think of letting go and never looking back

And never moving forward so there'd never be a past

Just washing it aside

All of the helplessness inside

Pretending I don't feel misplaced

It's so much simpler than change

so true,

I'm with you on that, Ano,

so let's keep trying!!

very nice.

creativity is veru closely realated to pain.

keep writing.

I only wish I was that creative. I probably could get a lot more done if I was. As it is, even though I did not write it, it does directly reflect how I feel right now. I feel like quitting because it's easier to run...

and are you one to always take the easy way out?

and so some people are more creative than others?

is that a newsflash for you?

I am creative.

so what.

There are innovators and there are IMPLEMENTORS in the world.

I am nto an implemetor.

I have lots of ideas - so what what happens to them?

I have lots of ideas...but they also get me into trouble, too!

an active imaginatino is one of the favorite tools of the YH.

that all said and done -

I cna teach you hwo to become more creative if you are interested.

Take one little step in the right direction each day.

Even if you find yourself back at the starting point again, keep walking.

Take again another step.

One day you'll see that the fact you kept finding yourself back at the starting point was just an illusion.

Each little step you took will be added together.

And you'll find yourself at the finish line - with Hashem cheering for you!
