

Kedusha's Progress

Posted by Kedusha - 25 May 2009 20:03

Dear Guard: I have indeed been sending my progress e-mails to wallohonor@gmail.com.
Somehow, they are not getting through. So, instead, I will keep you posted from here.

Boruch Hashem, I'm up to 532 days, with 8 days to go to tie my milestone!

Dov, just this once, can I forget about "one day at a time?"

Wait, let me answer that myself:

NO!!!

Boruch Hashem, I'm up to 533 days, with 7 days to go to tie my milestone!

Dov, come on, maybe I'm safe taking it one week at a time? Just this once? I'll be your best friend!

All right, all right - I know the answer:

NO!!!

Boruch Hashem, I'm up to 534 days, with 6 days to go to tie my milestone!

At this point, I'm confident that there's no need to take it one day at a time.

JUST JOKING!!!

Beware of milestones

I agree that milestones can be a double-edged sword. However, they're only a problem if they make us overconfident. But, if they help keep us clean (because, e.g., we don't want to blow over a year of sobriety in one minute), they're serving a very good purpose!

Bards,

I was wondering why your post above contained no words of encouragement. Is there a penalty for being sober past a certain point?
