

Kedusha's Progress

Posted by Kedusha - 25 May 2009 20:03

Dear Guard: I have indeed been sending my progress e-mails to wallohonor@gmail.com.
Somehow, they are not getting through. So, instead, I will keep you posted from here.

Thank you, Serenity.

May we all be Matzliach, one day at a time.

Have a good Shabbos!

I agree that, the early posts on the forum (not only mine) are of significant historical interest.

Jack,

Have a wonderful Shabbos!

Kedusha

It's always great to hear from you!

Hi Kedusha

You are clearly a motivating factor here on the forum.

I am interested to know if you found hatzlocho in other areas of your life as your days of sobriety accumulated.

Hi Kedusha,

Never realized that you exist till now. Relative to you I am a new comer here. If i may ask you post in short your Journey, and if you still struggle today? What got you to sobriety and what is keeping you sober?

I am sure that you have many tips to offer. It is hard to go through your 30 page thread.

thank you

One page at a time.

There are many long threads here with many insightful comments, suggestions and posts.

This one is one of the best.

Hi Lomed,

The bottom line is that I decided that, be"H, I would do whatever it takes to stay clean, one day at a time. Whether it's reading through the GYE Handbook, implementing the three-second-rule, participating in one of the phone conferences, posting on the forum, having an occasional live meeting with other GYE members, or using only properly filtered internet, I've done whatever it takes to stay clean, one day at a time, and I'm prepared, be"H, to continue to do whatever it takes.

Hope this helps. Hatzlacha to you!

Got it - old school. No illustrious chidushuim.

Follow the old tried and true but me steadfast in the commitment.

Sometimes having no Chiddushim is the biggest Chiddush.

I'm reminded of a quote that is attributed to the Ibn Ezra: "Ein Beis Midrash b'li Chiddush. Ein Chiddush? Yeish Chiddush!"
