

Bruce's Battle

Posted by BruceWayne - 17 Jun 2009 14:30

OK guys, it took me a little while but I'm finally up on this part of the forum. Most of you probably know who I am by now, so I won't repeat my story. You can find that and a bunch of other stuff at my original thread here: rehab-my-site.com/guardureyes/forum/index.php?topic=503.0

I will be posting my progress towards 90 clean days almost every day here. Updates will be right before I go to sleep, once the day's victory is secure, or the next morning.

This thread is really for myself. I don't care if no one reads it. It's here to keep me accountable and to help me get there.

So far I have been clean for 4 days. Today will hopefully be number 5.

bruce, that wasn't a post.

one day someone's gonna have to teach you forum etiquette.

I was just showing signs of life for 2 reasons:

1. I wanted to post so you guys wouldn't all think I'd gone AWOL again.

2. I wanted to post because I want to be more active on the forum. It is our lifeline, after all.

But I didn't have anything to say.

but how does

post. = active on the forum?

how about this

i had a pretty good shabbos. was home, but i avoided most triggers. happy to report __ days clean.

i didn't mean to make that sound rude at all!

i'm so sorry. i just reread it...

i'm really very happy to hear you're alive.

just that sometimes it's nice to know your alive and well.

whichever.

sorry!

That's a bit verbose, don't you think?

And no need to be sorry. I wasn't offended at all (it's kind of hard to do that to me).

WOW.

if that's verbose, i wish you a whole lot of luck when you get married and your wife talks your ear off.

I was being a tad sarcastic there (which you probably picked up on).....

But seriously--is there such a thing as a woman who doesn't talk her husband's ear off?

Cause if they exist then I gotta get me one. ;D

YOU WILL NOT BELIEVE THIS:

I went to a friend's apartment tonight because a friend I hadn't seen in a long time was in town and he was staying there. So there were about 4 of us there chilling out.

Not long after I sit down one of my friends says he wants to show me a ridiculous website.

So, I jokingly say "It doesn't have anything to with porn, does it?"

"Nah, not really. It could be related, but no"

"Dude, everything has something to do with porn so I don't know what that means".

Then he turns around his laptop, and BAM! Exposed breasts.

I'm like, "G-D, ARE YOU KIDDING ME? WHAT THE HELL, MAN?"

Couldn't believe it.

But I didn't get aroused by it at all. It was some kind of thing where you could manipulate the photo in all kinds of stupid ways, so it was more of a game than porn. But it was still something I didn't want to see. I guess they didn't regard it as porn because it didn't fit the conventional definition of porn, but it was still porn. Pretty much the only time I would consider seeing nudity non-pornographic is in a medical/clinical context.

We have a funny god, don't we?

I really, really thought they were going to show you the GUE website. "Look at those backwards old-school Jews, who don't think you should watch porn!"

I would have preferred that.

PS: if you haven't seen it yet, check out my thread called "the other side" in the break free section. It might give you a different perspective on things....

i talk too much...

i don't really know what to say, so i write, i don't really know what to say i'd kill my friends if they did something like that to me.

but in public stuff is much less triggering, isn't it?

at least u didn't get triggered...
