

Bruce's Battle

Posted by BruceWayne - 17 Jun 2009 14:30

OK guys, it took me a little while but I'm finally up on this part of the forum. Most of you probably know who I am by now, so I won't repeat my story. You can find that and a bunch of other stuff at my original thread here: rehab-my-site.com/guardureyes/forum/index.php?topic=503.0

I will be posting my progress towards 90 clean days almost every day here. Updates will be right before I go to sleep, once the day's victory is secure, or the next morning.

This thread is really for myself. I don't care if no one reads it. It's here to keep me accountable and to help me get there.

So far I have been clean for 4 days. Today will hopefully be number 5.

i talk too much...

i don't really know what to say, so i write, i don't really know what to say

Hmm....maybe that's why you're on you're third journal.

And yes, it's definitely harder to get triggered in public and especially when you're in a room full of other guys (the men will get it).

Why did the chicken run across the road?

There was a car coming.

So it's running into the path of the oncoming car, right?

Good Shabbos all.

I probably won't be back until Monday because I've been procrastinating and I have a ton of work to do.....

OK, it's still Sunday and I'm back.

The work was done a bit faster than I thought.

By the way, did anybody see this boneheaded play?

sports.yahoo.com/nba/blog/ball_dont_lie/post/Jack-ties-shoelace-during-live-play-Bulls-watch;_ylt=AtV7nTwtmWxPd5DvC5Vh6WW8vLYF?urn=nba,206950

Jared Jack of the Toronto Raptors literally tied his shoes while holding the ball in the middle of a possession---the ball is live, mind you--and no one bothered to just strip the ball from him while he was staring at the floor. Watch Luol Deng just look right at him and move around like he's completely lost.

What's my point?

That clip reminded me of what we struggle with. We are so stupefied by it that we don't recognize the obvious. We're in a trance and we can't see the damage or reach for a way out when it's right in front of our faces.

Hello, he's giving you a free layup!

But before we can take the ball for the layup, we have to be coached to realize that the opportunity is even there in the first place.

Anyone can make a moshol out of a story in the parsha. But it takes real thought and ingenuity to come up with a moshol from an NBA game (and other such mundane things). Keep em coming Bruce! ;D

I'm feeling the urge creeping up on me.

You know.

The one that says "get back on the chart to 90....DO IT.....".
