

fresh start

Posted by Sturggle - 06 Jul 2009 19:35

I was on the list before under a different name and I decided to change it. Previously I was "David". I am nearing the end of my 4th day clean. Today was difficult and challenging. Thanks to your help, I have had a filter (K9) on my computer since Thursday afternoon. That has been helpful. Anyway, happy to be on this journey of sobriety. I'm not so sure how much to disclose about myself and what to write on these forums. I hope to make use of them, though. I have needed, do need and will need help and support.

thanks gals.

I know you weren't on when everything was going down,

but I know that you would've been right there to help hold me up.

And I knew it at the time,

and it made a difference.

My goodness is intrinsic.

It is part of my holy essence.

My goodness does not depend on anything.

It is real and true.

Regardless of who calls me,

regardless of who says hello

or even goodbye,

slaps me in the face,
or makes me wanna cry,
my goodness is real and true.

I know that somewhere,
deep down inside of me.

I forget easy...

and I def know where I won't find it...

b'ahava raba ugmura,

Sturggle

Ein Milim!!!

he has a huge amount of multiples in his family- sheker, depression, hopelessness..... and somehow they get free apparition (for those non- harry potter fans- the ability to dissapear and reappear immediately in another place) abilities so they can be anywhere in a second.

I HATE THEM!

of course the menuval lives in new york; where else will he live? this city provides ample fertile ground for diseased minds and destructive habits; please see my reference to this city as one big festering neon distraction and a three-ringed circus sideshow of freaks....as an aside i think trying was saying that trying, who lives in new york, heard the cry of the menuval, who lives, presumably, in the firey depths of hell...
