

The life of a soldier in hashems army

Posted by mnman415 - 16 Nov 2010 03:54

my last thread was called starting over after 37 days and the one before that was called this time im in it to win it.

very quickly. im 16. got into this at 11 years old. always said ill stop after my bar mitzvah. in 8th grade i talked to girls. in summer going into 9th i decided to stop talking to them because i felt guilty about m. skipping ahead. here i am now as an addict. a teenage addict trying to get close to hashem.

the only way i can do it is with his help, without hashem i am helpless.

so here is what we are doing. we are DAVENING 3 times a day. not saying the words but talking to hashem. if possible, talk to hashem often.

filling my day with as much torah as possible.and maintining kedusha. thursday nights i will try to exercise to get rid of some extra hormone buildup. and get rid of sexual energy.

there is so much more to do, but this is the main outline.

today was day 1. it was good, i was careful with my eyes. i learned a lot. i feel really good. i just decided. by next schoolyear, going into 12th grade, i WILL know how to learn. im still pushing myself in shiur. but out of shiur, i am taking a jastrow (dictionary) and learning torah. i am learning the entire masechta bekiyus that we are doing in school. we are only going to cover 20 or so dafim of gemorah so i am doing thr whole thing. over the vacations when i have more time i will try to learn how to learn be'iyun. but i first need to get down the basics.

anyways. i feel really pumped to keep going and really make it to 90 days this time. and with hashems help and only with his help will i be able to make it.

At your age, it's quite common for guys to whack eachother on the back (hard enough to almost break the spine) whenever they want to say hi to one another. You can request that they kindly just hit you on the head instead, as your back is in a lot of pain.

Alternatively, your backache may be from sitting all day. I had this once, and once I took up walking daily, the pain went away.

I like that mashul!

I think that what Eye is saying is that sometimes, the point isn't to escape - we have painful things in life, and we sometimes need to face them and deal with them - often by learning more about ourselves.

Back pain is no fun. I hope you feel better soon! I'd suggest relaxation breathing. That helped me. Also, as cliched as it sounds, working on your posture can help - holding your head straight, etc.

thanks friends. ben D...you volunteer to smack me on the head first????? thanks for the back advice, it could be a combination of everything??? silent and eye, its true and hard to do. im trying to see the unavaidible pain yet not suffer from it, but as i have said before, its hard.

good news, i showed the rav of my shul (that i daven at during the week) my boks that i have bound and he said i have the job for the shul (and his own personal seforim) thats the good part.

th other part is that today was the worst day spirtually in a long time, i was really not "into it" like i usually am. i kept forgetting brachos, i ate excessevely. i had a big slip with a lot of fantasizing, (im still clean though) and kavvanah and emotion during davening was not at its normal power. also torah learning wasnt energetic.

its a message from hashem that i cant do anything without him and that i need to be putting more effort into it tommorow and once hashem sees me trying he will take over.

good night.

btw end of day 32. hashem is bringing me close to my record day (38 days) but i have a power this time i didnt have before,.....hashem!

We are rooting for you!

You are an inspiration!

Did you send Duvid Chaim your Core Values?

You are extremely focused.

A true soldier on the front lines.

Keep on trucking or Bobsledding, depending on the local weather conditions.

heilige tiyere HS, i am sure that the RBSO is kvelling with nachas over how much you work for Him, trying to keep out of trouble and stay attached to Him. He knows how far you've come and how hard it has been and how hard it is.

You are an exemplary soldier and you teach us all what perseverance and dedication are.

You are winning by not staying down and out.

keep up your great work and remember, Shabbos is coming. Adam harishon did what he did on friday and when shabbos came he said Mizmor shir leyom hashabbos, his teshuvah was accepted and he stayed in Gan Eden until motzai shabbos. Seforim say shabbos is roshei taivos Shabbos Bo Tashuv, shabbos is a time of being, not becoming. Ke'ilu kol melachtecha asuya, the Nesivos Shalom writes that this refers to ruchniyos as well.

chazak ve'amatz veta'aseh chayil!

Zikkaroin L'maaseh Beraishis -Every Shabbos you can start from Beraishis.

Techilla L'Mikraei Kodesh - a good time to say: This is the first day of the rest of my life, from now on I'll try with Hashem's help to make it Kodesh.

Zecher L'ytzias Mitravim - When we got out of the 49th Sha'ar HaTumah by the skin of our teeth.

These are all inherent in the power of each and every Shabbos.

What was was, from here on in we're starting a new count, one day at a time!

Hang in there, we're rooting for you,

Elazar ben Durdayah

i did see these post before shabbas and i just didnt have time to reply. but know that they really helped.

recently i just stopped taking pills that the doctor has had me on for years and years. we jsut stopped it and i feel like im having withdrawl symptoms, super duper tired (extreme fatigue) not normal appetite. etc etc. its been a few days so its gettingbetter. but it makes yiddishkeit hard becasue i just have no energy for anything. nevertheless im still trucking along in my 18 wheeler.

gut vuch
