So right!! Rav Tzvi Meyer says on the Pasuk "Yiru es Hashem Kidoshav, ki ain machsor liray'av" - if a person thinks they will gain some spiritual gain by going somewhere or doing something, but in the process of doing it or going there they know there is a spiritual danger, for example, if they want to go to a Shiur somewhere but they know that on the way they will pass an area that will be a test for them, so if they fear Hashem and give UP the "kedoshav" and DON'T go, in other words, if they put Yiru es Hashem BEFORE Kedoshav, then they should know - Ki AIN MACHSOR LIRAY'AV, they WON'T lose by it and Hashem will make sure that they gain the spiritual benefit that they wanted to gain ANYWAY.

Just thought I'd mention... www.thejnet.com developed recently a filter for blackberries (maybe for other cell phones too).

Check it out everyone!

After reading your progress, I posted an announcement in the "Announcement" section of the forum. I had YOU in mind postal!

Day 18 complete.

GUE, I can't believe I would be the one you had in mind for such an INSPIRATIONAL and IMPORTANT announcement!...There are so so so many holy warriors here whose spiritual levels i hope to one day reach.

Inspired by the capacity within me (and within all of us) to make REAL change in our lives through taking on the yetzar hara head on (an all-out assault from all directions at full speed, no mercy...if only Israel would do the same!), I've decided to take what i've learned in this war and try to apply it in another area of my life that the yetzar hara has completely taken over.

It definitely will be a different mission (more of a "duty of the heart" rather than not doing a negative prohibition) so different tactics will be necessary . But the yetzar hara uses essentially the same strategy...LIES, LIES, and more LIES.

Any advice on how to apply what we are doing here to other areas of our lives that aren't so clear cut as "don't do so and so"? Have any other soldiers been emboldened and inspired by this fight to open up an entirely new front against the yetzar hara?

Well, I don't know if today's e-mail answers your question exactly, but the idea is that we can learn from our struggle in this area - we can learn from the Yetzer Hara himself - how to serve Hashem better in all areas.

Postal, one of the main reasons Hashem gives people this great test is that they should discover their inner strength and the heavenly asistence available. Hashem is telling you "Look what you can accomplish!" and B'H you got the message!

Also, as long as ones life is running smoothly he may not realize how much the y'h is in control. Only when you start to wage war, do you realize how the whole system works, and then you can use that knowledge on other fronts! I wish you tremendous Hatzlochoh in bashing that mean menuval on all fronts!

21 and 22....done and done. B'H, staying strong and the fences have been impenetrable. I've learned my lesson not to let the yh help me create the fences.

Thanks for the chizuk battleworn.
