

Been there done that... not really

Posted by geshertzarmeod - 14 Feb 2011 09:48

I've started the teshuva process before, but never with the support of others. Even if no one is reading this, just the idea that I can post this somewhere is meaningful. One day at a time. So this is day 1. :-\

I think I need to check the attitude handbook.

From wiktionary:

provocate (third-person singular simple present provokes, present participle provoking, simple past and past participle provocated)

thanks guys, i knew i could count on you!

hey! I broke the 500 posts barrier!

i know its peanuts, when u compare it some of the veterans on the forum,
but it's definitely an accomplishment!

thanks again to everyone on the forum
couldnt have gotten here with you!

(esp. shteebs for his hi thread ;D)

You're a Hero!!!!
Re: Been there done that... not really

Gut gezugt!

But reminds me of another episode where a tourist atop the Empire State Building leans over a bit too much and falls. As he passes the 56th floor somebody yells out the window, "How's it going?" And he answers, "So far so good."

Let's think about that. When we are in the process of falling, and we think to ourselves, "So far so good", aren't we similar to that tourist???

Nebach - Nebach

Today, in honor of Rosh Chodesh, or maybe in honor of hitting 500 posts, whatever

HKBH sent me a present.

On the radio they have a weekly chasidishe vort (they use a different name but I never remember what its called)

So today the "Rebbe" got distracted and didnt say what he had prepared instead he said something in honor of Yosef HaTzaddik's birthday (rosh chodesh tamuz)

(did u know that? i didn't.)

He said Yosef was 4 things: A ????, a ????, a ????, and a ????

notice the same 4 letters just switched around

???? - he was not just a dreamer in the simple sense, he was a visionary

he had a clear vision of who he was supposed to be and what was necessary to achieve his goals.

???? - he knew what he wanted and he did what was necessary to achieve his goals part of that was fighting his YH, and overcoming impossible challenges in kedusha.

(this is probably my biggest challenge in general, and specifically in kedusha inyanim, which is why this vort was so meaningful to me)

???? - He had mercy on others, he supported all those who were needy, especially his family

whom he took care of, despite his position of power, of which he could have taken advantage and could have taken revenge.

which leads to being ????? forgiving his brothers' attempt to dispose of him and convincing them, and himself, that its all from HKBH

and that they did nothing to him, and have no reason to feel bad.

He said it better and Im writing from memory

although if anyone wants to hear it Kol Chai has a website with recordings of all their shows.

If I was capable I would put in the link, but I've given up trying fancy things like that,

it doesnt seem to work for me

but if you're interested it was ????????? on wednesday morning.

500 days!

A bit anti-climactic. Just a regular day.

BH Ive come a long way.

Thank HKBH for every second of my life and for a wonderful gift called GYE mamash saved my life!

Thanks everyone!

Thank you.

to be honest after i posted that comment

I actually had a remarkable victory

I had to meet with a lady, who in the past

was used by yours truly for fantasizing

BH I was under control b4 and after the meeting and my eyes stayed in their sockets during the meeting as well
