A new feature in the forum auto-saves your post as you write. And if the the page refreshes for some reason, and you try to reply again, you'll get a popup offering you to restore your original post.

Let us know how it works for you!

Did you ever write a long post, only to lose everything because the browser crashed?

great, thanks!

I have a separate question, and since I don't see adedictaed forum for meta questions, I'm posting here:

Are attached images in posts safe to download?

If someone uploads an image to a post, is it scanned for viruses?
