

LOOKING FOR NEW FILTER GABAI

Posted by the.guard - 21 Jun 2010 10:48

I got this e-mail today from our dear filter gabai who has been doing his job so well for almost a year:

Guard, the last few months have been extremely busy 4 me and I foresee it getting worse not better. Reluctantly I write the wordsThe filter division needs someone who can dedicate more time than I have ..time for researchtime to formulate policy and proceedings passtime to develop training and implementation for a filter hotline..... Time 2 deal with K9 re too many passwords on one address...all of which I'm not doing! The time has come for me 2 give it over since I'm not doing justic to GYE....I've sorta held on 2 it "bmokom shein ish" and I want the zechus, but the bottom line isthe job is not really being done. Please.. find someone who can effectively replace me as filter Gabai.

Who thinks they might be suitable for this tremendous zikui Harabim? It would start on volunteer basis, but we hope to be able to pay someone to do this within a few months. This "Filter Division" will grow and grow, and we envision it becoming one of GYE's biggest and most used services. (Who ever jumps in now, may find themselves with a full-time paid job one day - down the line, in a year or two).

You need to be:

- at least 90 days on our forum/site, and familiar with the community.
- preferably 90 days clean
- Married (for stability)
- computer savvy
- on-line a lot
- understand filter technology
- be willing to make changes for people by remote-access software like ShowMyPC, TeamViewer or CrossLoop.
- be able to hack into the pentagon's computers.

)

Anyone?

=====

=====
(Ok, the last one is not a "must"

Re: LOOKING FOR NEW FILTER GABAI
Posted by BecomeHoly - 06 Jul 2010 04:42

I may be able to do so. Thou I'm not 90 days clean :-/

=====

=====