You used the flight2freedom program? Does it work?

Do you have an agenda? Why bring up an old and dead thread?

Yes. I actually use it to help other people (LIVE not virtually). It really does help. I see great progress in the people that are dedicating themselves to follow the program.

?Ans YES! I have an agenda. I'm an undercover agent for flight2freedom LLC and I want them to earn HUGE profits (by helping many more people one day at a time)

Amazing!

So my opinion is to let the results speak for themselves, let the guys who have been helped come on here and recommend it to everyone and toot it's horn.

When you try to sell something this way, it gives people a bad taste. If something is good, it should be able to shown in it's own light and stand the test of time. ??? ????? ????? ??????, one system doesn't have to be better than the other one to be effective and yes, there may be people for whom one program would not work for and needs the other one.

Apple's motto is to put out the best product in the world, Microsoft's motto is to try to be better than Apple. (Same with Pepsi and Coca-Cola and many more) When you promote yourself as better than something else, it just looks like you are trying to catch up.

P.S. I actually am a big fan of the F2F program, just not a fan of the way I am seeing it being promoted.

Your input and point of view are greatly appreciated!

?Marketing psychology is a broad and important subject.

The main thing is to remember that we all have one goal and destination...
